I just was given this phone. I am totally overwhelmed with it! So much fun with very clear photos which is important to me. It will take me awhile to figure everything out as I had an LG Venture before. What a change!!!

I was so concerned because I was starting to get phone related injuries. The Samsung Galaxy s23 Ultra was just too heavy and the size of the screen was too big for one hand usage. So I was gonna do it. I was going to leave the flagship phone for the Google Pixel 8 Pro. Just like my wife..... and she lectured ... and she scolded..... and she told me how silly I was... (SpongeBob show voiceover) ... 4 weeks later... Wife: I want a Galaxy S24 Me: Doesn't Say A Single Word because I am Smart. Tl:dr = Get a Galaxy S24 you won't regret it.

INCENTIVIZED REVIEW

I use my phone for a lot of things, including school, work, social media, videos, and photos. I use it a lot during the day. I've had phones in the past that had terrible batteries. It seemed like they couldn't hold a charge. Now, at the end of my day of moderate to heavy usage, my battery is somewhere in the ballpark of 40%. It really is awesome. I've also enjoyed the smoothness and UX/UI in general. This really is a great phone in almost all aspects. The only - and I do mean the only - downside that I've found is that it seems like a slightly more polished version of the past few Samsung phones. With that being said, there's not a whole lot that I believe needs to change. As they say, "if it ain't broke, don't fix it".

This phone has changed my life so much, I am getting a Samsung Galaxy for my wife. She enjoys playing games as well as the other social media. I believe her old android phone that she got herself will be thrown out in a blink of an eye once she has a Samsung Galaxy, whatever model she wants - I'll get it for her!

Disappointed, especially with speakerphone volume

3 months ago

The volume level of the speakerphone is one of the most important things to me, but the speaker volume on the S24+ is significantly lower than my amazing S21 and I am extremely disappointed. I have checked all the settings, equalizer set to normal, Dolby, limits turned off, etc, and everything is as it should be, but the volume is just SO low. My S21 I could have on speaker far from my ear, in its holder a foot or two away, and hear everything no problem. But with the S24+ I literally have to set it on my shoulder just to hear. And yes, it is on speaker mode, not normal talking-by-holding-to-the-ear mode. It's only like 1-2 notches above that for speakerphone. The volume is low both for calls on speaker, and playing any media. I had the same issue trying to play a podcast in the same environment as always, and couldn't hear it like I could with my S21. I compared the speaker from the outside of both devices, and the actual physical speaker slot on the S24+ is much smaller than the S21. I'm super disappointed. On top of that, the default font I have been using since I switched to Samsung about decade ago (Rosemary) is no longer available and there are virtually no free options aside from 2-3 nearly identical boring generic fonts. And the vivid vs natural shows ZERO difference whatsoever. I did a side-by-side comparison of the S21 and the S24+ and the S21 was way more vibrant than the S24+. Everything on the S24+ is muted and dull. I've been a long time user of Samsung and have always been super excited to get a new phone, but this is the first time I'm extremely disappointed and wishing I could switch back to my S21. I was going to do the trade-in, but now I might hang on to my 21 and send this back...

No, I do not recommend this product.

Leave Google Behind! Samsung is Where it's At!!

KlassicEra

3 months ago

It feels so good to come back to Samsung and I will never leave again! I wanted to be adventurous as see what the Google Pixel was all about but aside from their color accurate camera, everything else was shameful. Battery, shame. Almost curved body, shame. Easily crackable screen if you just breathed on it wrong, forget about it. Samsung may have not done much for those already on their S23 devices, but for us coming back from iPhones and Pixels, man what a game changer! I love seeing my battery usage and I was able to get almost two full days out of my phone. I could barely get 5-6 out of that Pixel! The camera on the S24+ is great and almost like the ultra without the 500x zoom, which I know I won't need but I love the 50x it does have! The real shiner is the form factor. Never have I ever wanted to take my phone out of it's case SO MUCH just to hold it and feel how smooth it is! I have the Orange version and it's a Matte orange, it feels and looks good! Thank you SS for making me feel like I never left!
